The Festival is built around how businesses are actually built, scaled and exited.

It focuses on the decisions that determine growth, capital and long-term outcomes, with a clear emphasis on execution, accountability and results.

Across five core stages: Start Up, Build and Scale, Innovation, Leadership and Exit, the programme is structured around the decisions required to build, scale and exit a business.

Each stage is led by founders, operators and investors with direct experience of building, scaling and exiting businesses.
